FIVE REASONS FOR WINNING

To the Editor of THE POLK COUNTY REPUBLICAN:

In a recent issue of the Copper City Advance, I read an editorial entitled "Elect the Best Men," in which the editor pleads with the Republicans of Polk county to disregard their political alignments and vote for the best man, regardless of politics. Of course, one would naturally expect this of a Democratic paper when its owners and publishers are Democrats of the deepest hue, especially in a county where it has gone Republican by two or three hundred majority. This little article would imply that there are running certain candidates on the Republican ticket who are not "clean, honest men, who have not the confidence of the people" and who are incapable of holding their full party strength." How gladly does Bro. Matlock want to see the "best men elected to fill the offices of Polk county" provided they come from the Democratic party. How gladly does he "hope each voter in Polk county will consider these things" before casting his vote on the 6th day of August." If I was a full feathered Democrat like him I would pitifully plead with some of the Republicans to turn aside from the faith of their fathers and vote the Democratic ticket if I thought there were enough soft-headed Republicans weak enough to be led by such whimperings to do so.

Why don't Bro. Matlock tear aside the assumed veil of non-partisan journalism, of which his paper boasted when 'bein' a bornin' and get down to rock bottom business and have the courage to name some of those Republican candidates who are "incompetent and not trustworthy" and use their official power to pave the way for a second term?"

Hundreds of good Republicans subscribed for his paper because they were led to believe in the beginning that the Advance would be a non-political paper. How is it keeping faith with its Republican subscribers? Read that article on "The Shut-Down" and a side line editorial in connection and tell me how it rings. Scan the sheet from snout to gobble and tell me honestly if it is wholly non-political.

Listen, Bro. Matlock! The Republicans of Polk county are going to win in the August election for the following reasons:

They have a strong ticket of tried and true men, without a blemish against their character or official conduct.

Republican are the true type that can not be bought or persuaded by such articles as your paper contains.

Because the Republicans of Polk county are not of the trading kind and not on the market for dollars and cents.

Because the Republicans do not believe in eliminating politics from county elections, as you suggest

Because we are running men who have the confidence of the people and who are capable of assembling their party strength. REPUBLICAN.

PLOT EXPOSED TO GET BOGUS TAX RECEIPTS

From the Madisonville Tribune.

The Knoxville Box, Printing and Engraving Company received an order for some job work from Chattanooga, last week.

They may have received many order for work from Chattanooga before, but the pedular nature of this order was such that it is of vital interest to all law-abiding citizens of Monroe county.

The facts as they were reported to us were these: Millard Hudson wrote the Knoxville Box and Engraving Company from Chattanooga, placing and order for 1,000 poll tax blanks and inclosing with his order a sample to show how the blanks were to be made. The sample was a poll tax receipt issued by Trustee Lee R. Sloan to Millard Hudson.

The engraving company returned the order to the sender and gave as their reason for not doing the work that they did not have the big type with which to print the date (1913) which is printed in large red letters across the face of the receipts for last year.

WHAT IS DEATH?

What is death? The question rises,
Will some one an answer give?
When we leave this vale of sorrow
Will we really cease to live?

Some there are says 'tis a transfer
From the world to realms above,
Where we'll never see a sorrow,
Dwelling with the ones we love.

But this does not satisfy us,
For it is not in God's word.
And because the ones who tell us
Seem to dread to be transferred.

We will find within its pages,
That in death men turn to dust,
And his thoughts the same day perish,
So we in its teachings trust.

So we seek another answer,
One God's word will not condemn,
We should trust in what he tells us,
Not be followers of men.

But the Savior said when leaving
That He would a home prepare;
And when at last all things are ready
He will come and take us there.
